- The bulk of pellets produced in the Republic of Belarus are exported to Europe (about 85% of all manufactured pellets). Most countries in the world are switching to renewable energy sources, so there is strong steady growth in demand for pellets in the world market. Moreover in most EU countries stocks of raw materials for the production of pellets is about to end.
- Due to the constant rise of prices for gas, gasoline, diesel fuel and strict environmental standards of emissions into the environment the Eurasian Economic Union market emerge the demand for fuel pellets
- The main raw material for production are wood illiquid and wastes from the wood processing plant. Numerous wood working plants of Mogilev region could serve as a source of raw materials.
